

PhytoLogic Platform Overview

A Framework for Tailored Cannabis Use

What PhytoLogic Is

PhytoLogic is CARTA's system for turning complex plant chemistry into simple, repeatable decisions.

It organizes products by chemotype, maps them to effect domains, and provides structured dosing guidance.

Core Concepts

Chemotypes summarize the pattern of cannabinoids and terpenes in a product and are more reliable than strain names.

Microdosing emphasizes small, consistent doses to support function without heavy intoxication.

The Entourage Matrix connects chemotypes, botanicals, and observed effects to guide formulation and titration.

How Products Fit In

Capsules offer effect-based baselines such as Calm & Focus, Mobility & Function, and Rest & Restore.

Sprays act as volume knobs for timing and intensity, while inhalation offers rapid-onset tools for acute situations.

Each SKU is tagged to specific chemotype families, so patients can keep direction consistent across formats.

Practical Roadmap

Define a goal, choose a capsule that matches, add sprays or inhalation carefully, and track response in the app.

Adjust in small steps and move within or between chemotype families only when the data suggest it.

Key Takeaway

PhytoLogic turns cannabis from a pile of anecdotes into a structured, data-supported practice grounded in safety and function.
