

CARTA Gives Back

Community Partnerships, Education, and Workforce Development

Our Community Philosophy

CARTA believes that a cannabis business should leave communities better informed, better resourced, and safer than before.

We invest in education, job training, and public health-oriented partnerships across Minnesota.

Examples of Giving Back

Hosting workshops on safe storage, youth prevention, and responsible adult-use.

Supporting workforce pipelines, especially for people from communities disproportionately impacted by past cannabis policies.

Collaborating with local organizations on stigma reduction and chemotype literacy.

How to Engage

Attend a CARTA workshop, request materials for your organization, or invite us to train local staff or community health workers.

We prioritize practical, nonjudgmental education over marketing-heavy events.

Key Takeaway

Giving back is part of the CARTA brand—community health and opportunity rise when accurate information and fair employment are prioritized.
