

Phase 2 Product Teasers

Patches, Microdrops, Topicals, and the Intimacy Shot.

Introduction

CARTA is expanding thoughtfully. Phase 2 products will add new delivery methods and contexts for use, each designed to integrate with PhytoLogic and the CARTA Stack app for data-informed refinement.

Science Explained Simply

- Patches: Slow, steady release for consistent baselines.
- Microdrops: Precision oral dosing with fine control over timing.
- Topicals: Localized application for targeted comfort.
- Intimacy Shot: Occasion-based formulation aligned to presence and connection.

CARTA Product Spotlight

Each product will carry clear chemotype guidance and suggested pairing with existing capsules and sprays, creating complete, occasion-based stacks.

Practical Guidance

Watch for product education updates and QR-linked guides at retail and in the app. As always, start low, track, and adjust one variable at a time.

FAQ & Myth vs Fact

Q: Will formulations remain non-disease-claim?

A: Yes. CARTA focuses on wellness direction and customer experience, not medical claims. This topic may be re-visited once the FDA re-schedules cannabis.

Responsible Use & Safety Notes

Follow labels. Be mindful of timing, setting, and responsibilities. Consult clinicians for complex conditions.

Key Takeaway

More formats, same promise: clarity, consistency, and control—delivered the CARTA way.
